[9/11/2024, 19:23] olga rozova82: I have health issues, but many people have it now . I was sick with covid 3-4 times. You know some people don't understand if the person having long-term health issues their brain doesn't understand that people rather must care about each other not to harm each other.

[9/11/2024, 19:24] olga rozova82: It is very low morality to harm a person or a family with long-term health issues. I think it shows that such people are sick in their head. The only I can suggest to leave from this world instead of not taking responsibility or harming others.
