Real humans are humans everywhere. Not depending from which country they come from, which culture, whom they have grown up with and in with which environment.

Pain is pain everywhere. Not depending in which country, what nationality, what culture, which tradition, which family.

Suffering is suffering everywhere...not depending...

Love is love everywhere, not depending....

Real friends are friends everywhere, not depending of which culture they come, which country, what language they speak...

Betrayal is betrayal everywhere....not depending...

Blood is blood everywhere...not depending...

Kind true heart is kind true heart everywhere...not depending...

Money is money everywhere...

Humans, don't sell humans in yourself for money, status and fame..

Just stay HUMAN, and stay TRUE.

Thank you.
